"This cause is important to me because breast cancer is something that has personally affected my family. My aunt passed away from the disease at age 39, leaving behind two young children. Our family was devastated. We also have multiple family friends who have battled and beat this disease. After witnessing friends and family experience breast cancer first hand, I knew I wanted to do all that I could to give back."

— Courtney Jeffries, Inventor of Happy Cheeks

FACT: More than 90% of all women who use public toilets do not sit directly on the seat!*
