

SEVEN PRINCIPLES OF LEADERSHIP

1. A leader is first a servant.
2. Deeply held core values are what directs and sustains a leader.
3. Our character — how we exhibit our values — is our lasting legacy.
4. To envision and pursue with enthusiasm a yet unrealized future is the essence of the “art of leadership”.
5. Leadership is fundamentally about relationships.
6. Our actions — be they ethical or self-serving — serve as our life’s signature.
7. Self-reflection and awareness are crucible disciplines for a leader. Each invariably leads to humility.

Copyright © 2006 Seven Hills Foundation

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the author. The complete version of A Framework of Leadership for Seven Hills Foundation from which this abbreviated version is drawn, is available by contacting the President’s Office, Seven Hills Foundation, 81 Hope Avenue, Worcester, MA 01603, or by calling 508.755.2340, ext. 222.

